

Long time coming

K-Gaming was founded as a game development studio established in Tallinn, Estonia back in 2011. Although the company was rather small and relatively young, it consisted of creative professionals from two leading and well-known Estonian companies - Design.ee and Wisercat Software. Companies that have gained worldwide recognition in their respective areas - professional design and software development. With both teams sporting over 10 years of working experience under their belts, it comes as no surprise that game development is like second nature to us.
